Foreword

Build today, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place.
Longfellow

Maeser

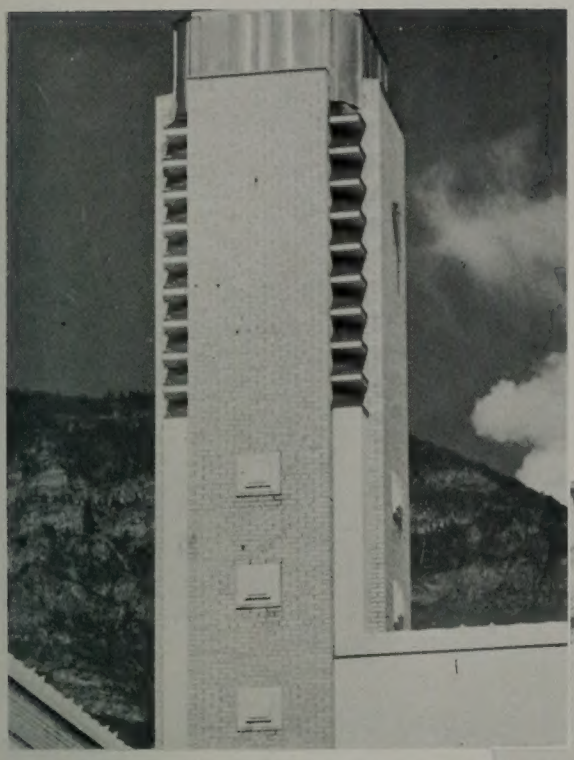

From its vantage point on the crest of University Hill, and looking westward over beautiful Utah Valley, the Maeser Memorial Building stands today as a tribute to the most prominent man in the early history of this University—Dr. Karl G. Maeser. As the first teacher, and later as the first president of the youthful University, he established the high standards for which this institution has become well-known.

Dignified by majestic columns, this memorial hall, first of the buildings to be located on the upper campus, houses the administrative forces of the University: the Office of the President and his correlative departments, the Associated Students Offices, and the University Press.

Smith

Against a backdrop of the tall, rugged Wasatch Mountains, the stately and modern Joseph Smith Building is the most recent of all the campus buildings. Though planned as a center for activities in the humanities, it has also become a popular social center for campus life.

Around the cheery fireplace on Sunday evenings, students gather to discuss subjects of interest. Within its assembly halls during the week, the learned or famed talk of problems of today, or noted artists help us to acquire an appreciation of the finer arts. There also students enjoy the spirit and talents revealed in student body assemblies. And as the evening comes, youth dances in the handsomely decorated ballroom.

Library

When the University Librarian, in a letter to President Franklin S. Harris in 1923, expressed embarrassment at not having sufficient library space nor shelf room to take care of the increasing numbers of books, the initial impetus was given to a movement which culminater in the construction of the spacious Heber J. Grant Library.

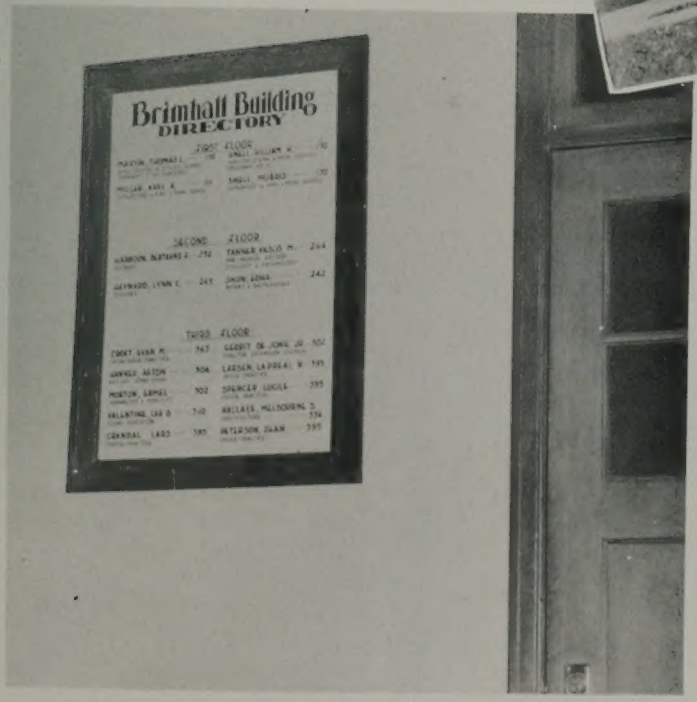

". . . and in view of his sincere love of books, and his generosity as Trustee-in-Trust of the Church in providing funds for this building," the new Library was named in honor of the late President Grant.

Brimhall

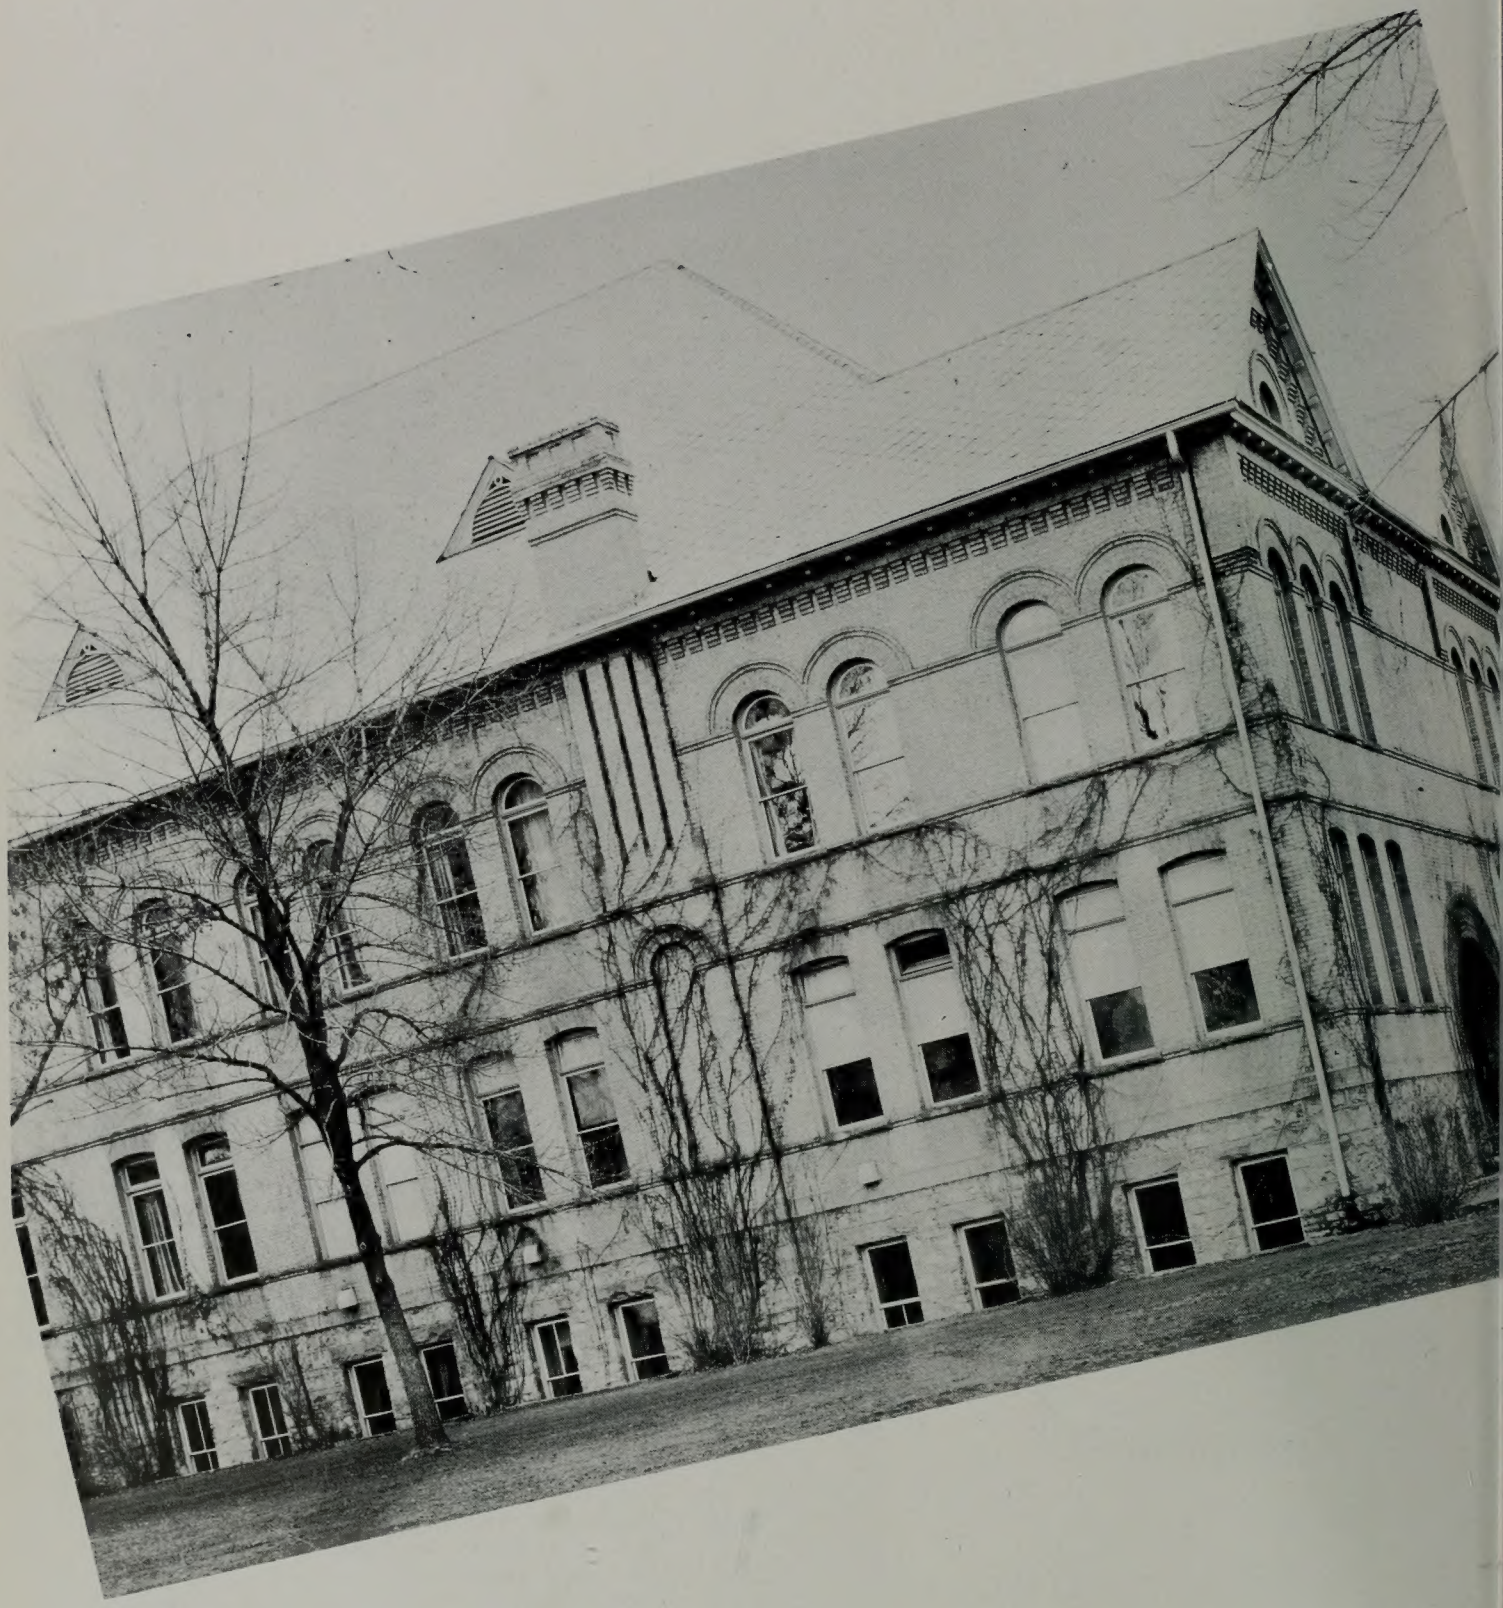

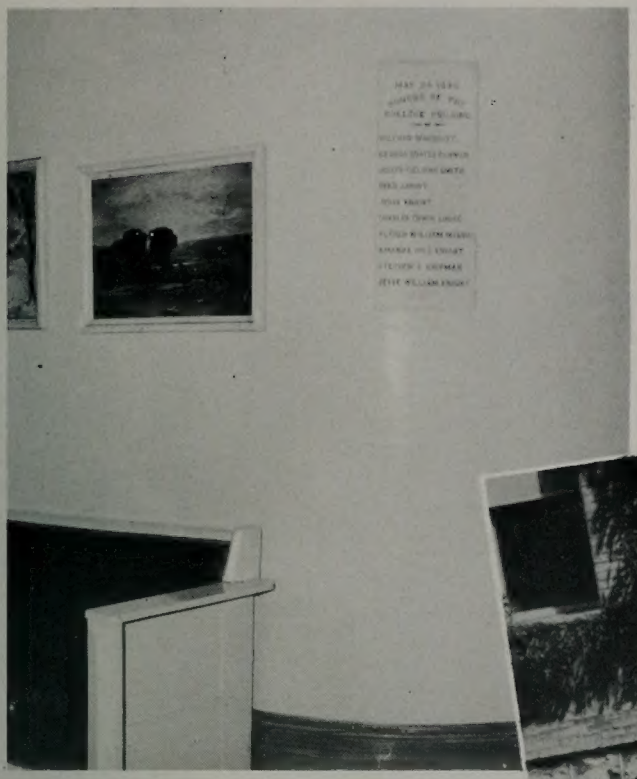

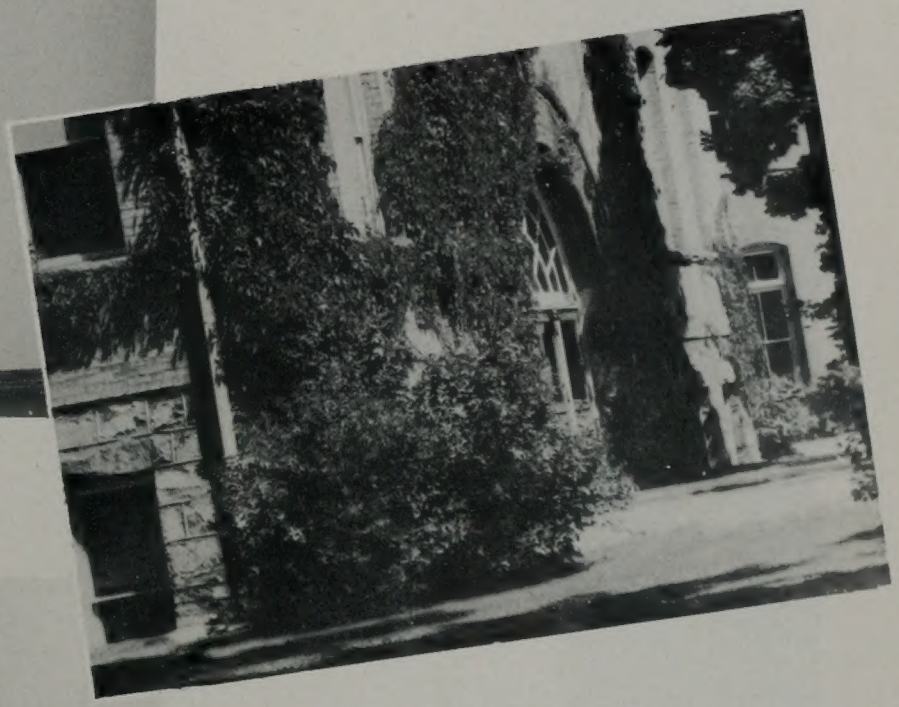

Just a war ago, a single-storied building, to be used in war work, was being rushed to completion. However, with the unanticipated signing of the Armistice, the building was converted to peacetime usage for classes in auto mechanics and woodwork, and was known as the Mechanic Arts Building.

Years later, in 1935, in order to meet the demands of the University, the Board of Education authorized the erection of two additional floors, and the new building was re-christened in honor of George H. Brimhall, an enthusiastic supporter and one of the earlier presidents of the school. In addition to its former services the new building provided space for the teaching of the exact and biological sciences, and for the Department of Office Practice.

College

Through the generosity of ten prominent Utah citizens, whose names appear on a marble plaque on the wall within, the College Building was erected and dedicated eight years after the occupation of the adjacent Education Building. This gave the University added prestige as an institution of higher learning, and separated it from the High School.

Today within this building, students of the Fine Arts learn to appreciate more fully the subjects of their particular fields—music, speech, and drama.

Education

Mantled with ivy, and partially hidden among the evergreens of the lower campus, the Education Building, dedicated early in 1892, is the oldest of the University buildings. To those who were striving hard to keep the struggling Academy going, the dedication of this building was significant. In contrasting the first humble home of the University with this fine new structure, Dr. Karl G. Maeser said, "The old man taught in a cabin, but they have built a palace for his boys."

It served well its purpose then, and it continues to do so today. But as new and modern edifices appear on the upper campus, the old Education Building grows more picturesque with its towers, and arches, and clinging vines.

BOOK TWO

Administration

And when we think we lead we are most lead.
Byron

President Smith

The youth of Zion who heretofore have known but one president of the Church —the late President Grant—now look with trust and confidence to their new leader, President George Albert Smith, for the continuance of counsel and guidance in the spiritual and temporal ways of living. Known throughout the country and the Church as a friend of the young people, President Smith possesses the wisdom, discernment, and foresight, the spiritual vitality, and understanding love with which to guide them onward through this chaotic post-war period. He teaches truth as a shield against temptation and sin.

The youth of Zion heartily sustain and honor him as prophet, seer and revelator —our leader.

PRESIDENT HOWARD S. McDONALD

Bringing with him a thorough background of training and experience in various fields of education, particularly in school administration, and possessing strong religious convictions and an enviable record in Church activities, President Howard S. McDonald, on November 14, 1945, became the fifth president of the Brigham Young University, succeeding Dr. Franklin S. Harris.

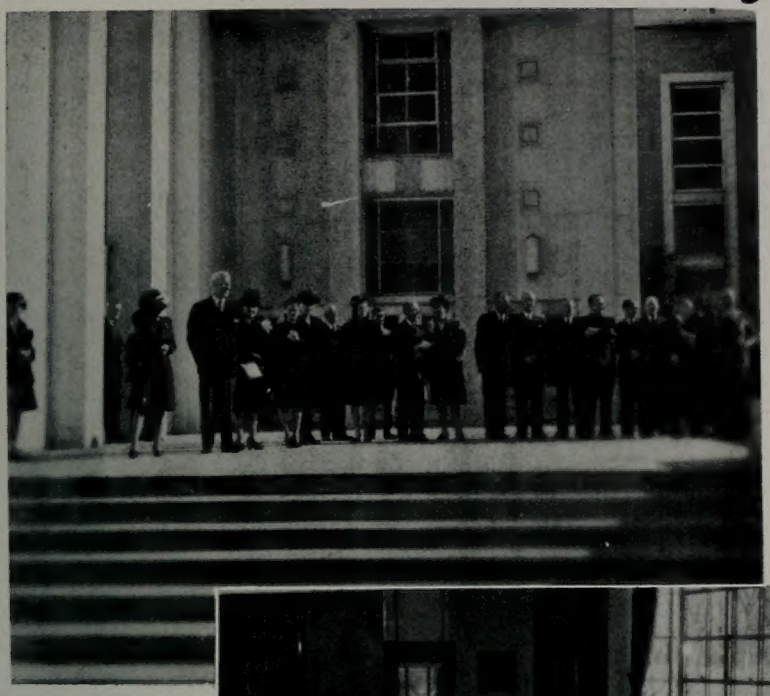

President McDonald's winning smile, his radiant warmth for meeting people, and his sincere interest in the students and concern for their welfare, have endeared him to our hearts. His visions of a great building program in the future to handle adequately the growing registration at the University, lets us look forward with eager anticipation. President McDonald, we welcome you.

Inauguration

In stately and inspiring inaugural services, President Howard S. McDonald accepted the two-fold charge given to him by President J. Reuben Clark, Jr., of the first presidency of the Church: first, to penetrate the mental fog which surrounds the world and unseat ignorance, and second, to teach the gospel of God. In reply to the charge, the President stated, "These responsibilities I accept, and I will try to uphold the great traditions of this institution established by my predecessors." Thus Howard S. McDonald, on November 14, 1945, was inaugurated as the fifth president of Brigham Young University.

Inauguration

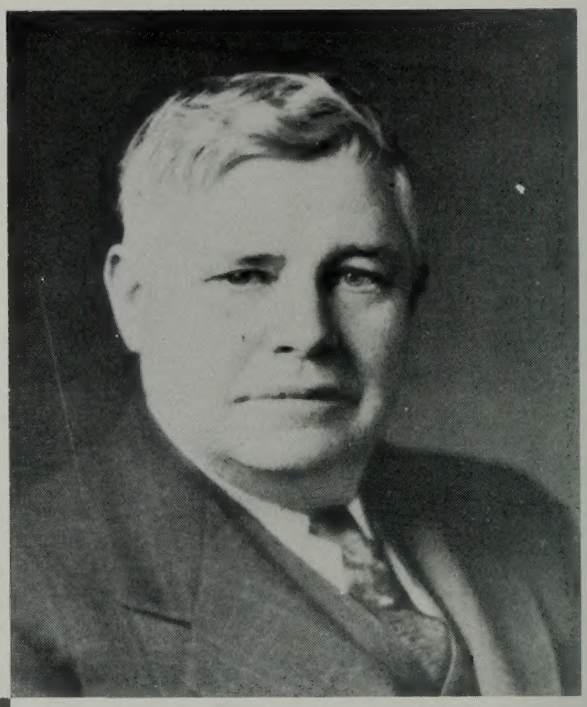

Trustees

Ever vigilant in guarding the youth of Zion, this illustrious group sets the standards and determines the policies of B.Y.U. With such an interested and capable body of men to guide us, we could do naught but progress to heights unknown.

J. Reuben Clark, David O. McKay.

Top: John A. Widtsoe, Franklin L. West, Adam S. Bennion.

Center: Joseph F. Merrill, Albert E. Bowen, Stephen L. Richards.

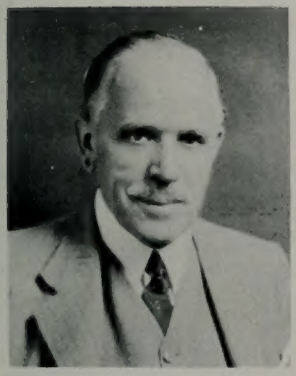

Bottom: Joseph Fielding Smith, Keifer B. Sauls, Charles A. Callis.

Trustees

Treasurer

With a flourish of pen to affix a signature, or with a few terse statements in answer to a question, Keifer B. Sauls, efficiently handles his duo-titled task as Secretary-Treasurer of the University. He is capably assisted by Miss Carma Ballif who supervises the business of the Treasurer's Office. These smiling office workers are Harriet Young, Laie Thurber and Lavon Whiting who wrestle with the unending columns of figures which find their way into that office.

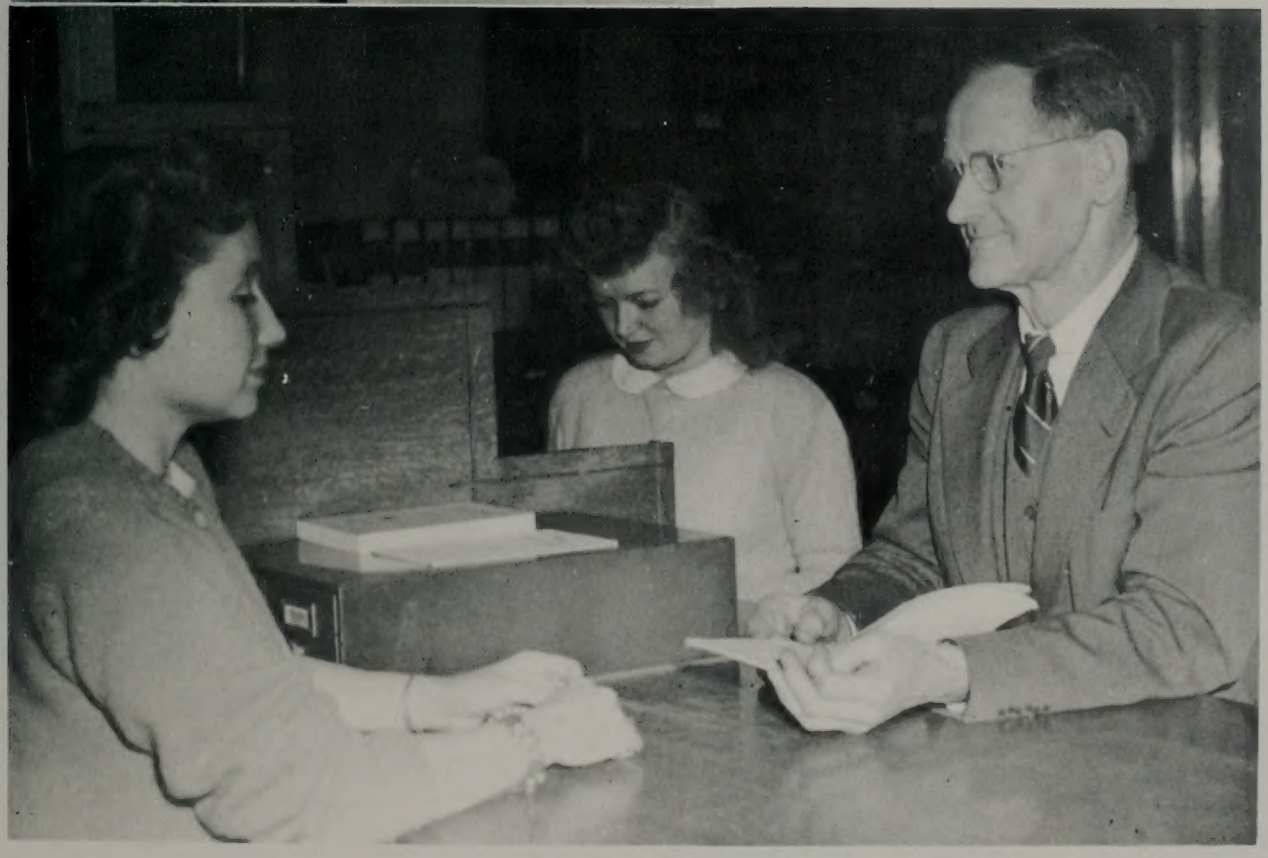

Registrar

Since the declarations of peace, and the return of service men and women, registration at this University has been climbing to unprecedented heights. But with that same genial composure and efficiency that marked the registration of his first dozen college students of the Brigham Young Academy in 1904, Registrar John E. Hayes, with his competent staff, handles the three thousands who are en rolled today.

Dean

Dr. Wesley P. Lloyd, as Dean of Students and Chairman of the Committee of Special Services, two newly-created offices, capably assists the President of the University in supervising the welfare of students, noting their progress and accomplishments, and assisting with their problems. In this position, Dean Lloyd, efficiently aided by members of the Faculty, deals with Freshmen orientation, the activities of social units, and student employment.

Friend, advisor, sports fan, philosopher . . . Dean Lloyd is known by all for his keen sense of humor, and his likeable personality.

Chairman

To maintain the welfare of every woman student at B.Y.U. is the desire and responsibility of Mrs. Lillian C. Booth, in her capacity as Chairman of Women's Activities. Always helpful and understanding and a mother in her own right, Mrs. Booth has always found time to give friendly guidance in personal matters and school problems. In her capacity as Advisor to A.W.S., she has stimulated and guided student functions with sympathetic suggestion and advice. Although she has served only a short time in her present capacity, she has managed to endear herself to many women students at B.Y.U.

Dean

Known as "the walkin'est," as well as "the apple-eatin'est" man on the campus; Dean Herald R. Clark, of the College of Commerce, possesses that rare and amiable personality which makes all who know him like him. Living about as far away as possible to be still considered a resident of Provo, Dean Clark walks to and from his home—and loves it. Among those who have classes from him, it is said that his stories always apply to the principle at hand, and his associates know him as one to stimulate individual thinking.

Students of the University, and residents of Provo and the adjacent area are indebted to Dean Clark for the excellent and varied lyceum programs which are brought to us, and are appreciative of his efforts in obtaining the best artists and lectures for our entertainment and betterment.

Dean

If it is true that the first test of a great man is his humility, Dean Carl F. Eyring of the College of Arts and Sciences is one of our greatest. A man who holds an enviable record of scientific achievement, he is ever modest and sincere.

His activities, however, have never been solely scientific in nature, for he has always had opportunities for church work. At present he is a member of the Sunday School General Board and formerly he was president of the Eastern States Mission. He is indeed a valuable faculty member. Students and colleagues alike find strength in his handclasp, wisdom in his counsel and joy in his friendship.

Dean

Possessor of one of the most soothing voices on the campus is Dr. Christen Jensen, capable Dean of the Graduate School and Professor of Political Science. He welcomes and advises all graduate students who come to the Y and succeeds in imparting a wealth of information to those who attend his classes.

A man of keen intellect, he has long desired to win a degree in law but has never yet found time to turn from teacher to student. His sense of humor and the sincere interest which he imparts to all of his students have helped to make him a campus favorite. Dean Jensen, a true "Y" man, is now finishing his thirty-eighth year at B.Y.U.

Dean

Cosmopolitan Dr. Gerritt de Jong, Dean of the College of Fine Arts, returned to the scene of his early studies in Spanish when he went to picturesque old Mexico for his vacation last summer. Dean de Jong plans to continue in the near future his travels and his study of Portugese in South America. Already known for his ability as a pianist and his linguistic accomplishments, Dr. de Jong is also recognized for his musical compositions. He is a member of the General Board of the Sunday School and was Chairman of Leadership Week here at the University. His hobby, it is said, is carpentry.

His picture in oil, painted by Alvin L. Gitten of London, hangs in the hall of the Joseph Smith Building.

Dean

In spite of recent restrictions that made many of the traditions of the summer school impossible, Dr. A. C. Lambert, Dean of the Summer Session, has overcome obstacles to make this phase of the academic program a great success. Possessor of an admirable vocabulary as well as an extremely acute mind, he is a forceful speaker at educational gatherings. Books hold a great fascination for him, and he lectures to students with great zest. In response to his characteristic love of the out-of-doors, he spends a considerable amount of time traveling. One of the most dynamic campus personalities, Dr. Lambert has been the inspiration of many students at the Y.

Dean

No one ever leaves the Y without trying at least one of the remedies for colds, sore throat, disappointed love-life, or what have you so thoughtfully recommended by Dr. Thomas L. Martin, Dean of the College of Applied Science. The campus-wide influence he exerts has rated for him the title of "the biggest little man" on the campus. Students in his classes are amazed at the amount of material he manages to inject into a single lecture. Always smiling, always moving as though he had a deadline to meet, Dr. Martin will always be a campus favorite.

Dean

The acme of kindness and thoughtful consideration for all whom he chances to contact is Dr. Amos N. Merrill, Dean of the College of Education. Having spent many years on this campus preparing teachers for their places in the world, he commands the respect of all his associates. As a prominent educator, he has served outside of the college as well as within it. Outstanding has been his service as president of the city board of education. He is especially noted for his jovial nature and informality during personal appointments. Dr. Merrill holds that honesty is the greatest virtue and he often predicts success for any student willing to face life "squarely".

Div. of Religion

The Division of Religion, necessarily a huge department since it is mandatory that every student enroll for a religion class each quarter, has some of the best scholars in Biblical and Church doctrine as teachers. Headed by J. Wiley Sessions, above right, and assisted by Dr. Russel Swensen and Dr. Sidney Sperry, below, the department functions as an active agent in the life of every student at the "Y".

Extension Division

The Extension Division is the nerve center through which flow the contacts between the university and the outside world. As a result of its activities, home study courses reach students in all branches of the service and in all parts of the world. Its film library is the largest in the intermountain West, and its news bureau is a beehive of activity as campus news is gathered and distributed to state and local newspapers.

Dr. Thomas L. Broadbent, at right, who directs the Extension Division.

Student Officers

Curly-haired, amiable Student Body Prexy, L. Grant Shields, familiary known to everyone as "Gus," heads one of the largest student bodies in the history of B.Y.U. and efficiently directs the activities of Student Council.

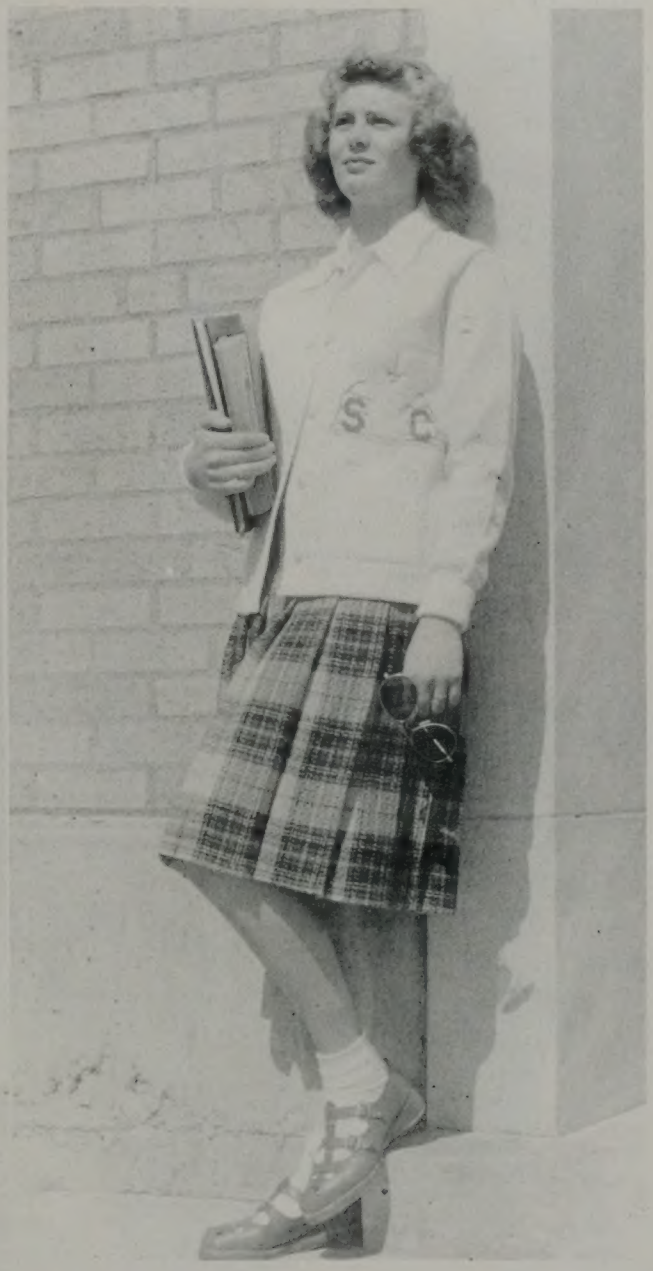

Poised, charming Karma Jean Cullimore honors the position she holds as Vice President of the Student Body. She enjoys the admiration of all who know this friendly, talented lady.

Student Officers

Here is a young lady who is fun knowing, for she is always ready with a witty line and a laugh. Faye Hunter carries the record books and uses the pencil at Student Council meetings.

Vivacious, petite Verda Olson has lead us through a delightful, active social Calendar . . . maybe that's because she loves dancing so. Do I detect a far-off look in her eye

It's in your honor, we cheer our warriors,
Our songs are ringing, our banner flung,
We're sons of Brigham, united ever
To fight for Brigham Young.

Coach Floyd Millet

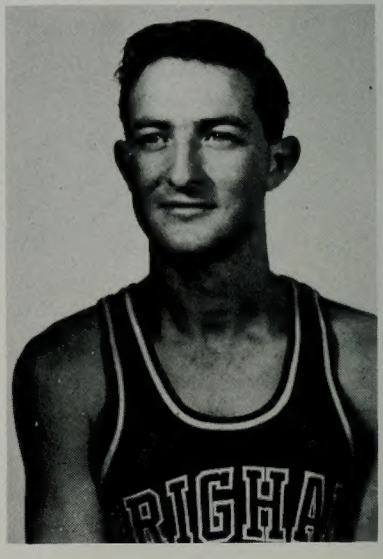

Coach Floyd Millet opened his 1945-46 basketball season on the first of December with a cage club of relatively unproven hoopsters, but as the season progressed the team was augmented by the return of former "Y" letter men.

The opening game was the annual grudge battle between Alumni and Varsity, which resulted in a close win for the Alumni. This game nevertheless served to convince supporters and critics alike that a successful season awaited this near-girls school. A pre-season trip through Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming farther accentuated the possibilities of the team's making it a close Big Seven race.

Charles Little

On a cold Sunday morning, the 23rd of December, the eleven anxious sight-seers boarded a train for New York, having had their plane reservations cancelled. Two wins and much needed experience were gained. A fast trip by air made possible their return in time for Winter Quarter.

Through the twelve conference games the Cougars started slow, hit their stride at mid-season to capture the coveted lead, then the Ute Indian struck the blow which started the Cougars toward their final standing of fourth place.

Coaches

Coach "Eddie" Kimball left the Y campus in June of '42 to serve in the Navy's Physical Training Program with the Air Force Pacific Fleet in the South Pacific. He returned to the Y in October, '45 and has since been planning and building a fighting eleven comparable to our scheduled opponents of next season when we re-enter the conference for the first time since '42.

Wayne Solfe who was assigned to the coaching staff of the varsity boxing and wrestling department, with line coaching duties on the gridiron is expected to be separated from the Navy this Summer to aid in developing a "brawn" team next year. He spent the majority of an extended leave working with prospective linemen in Spring football workouts this season.

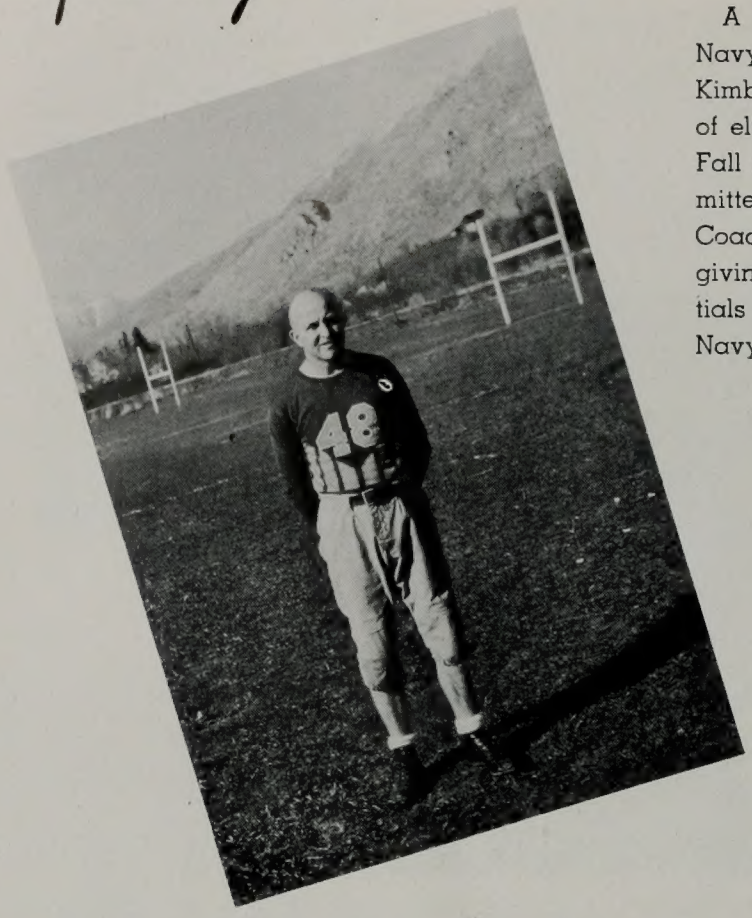

Mentor Millet, a graduate from BYU, has been checked out on every coaching position on the campus. In '41 he was made basketball coach and when Eddie Kimball left for the Navy in '42 Floyd took over and engineered a determined squad to our first upset over the U. of U. grid team in twenty years.

An all-round Y athlete in college days, Coach "Buck" Dixon returned to the Y in 1928 to teach an dcoach athletes of Y high and University. His present duties are confined mainly to varsity tennis, teaching physical education classes and managing the Intramural program.

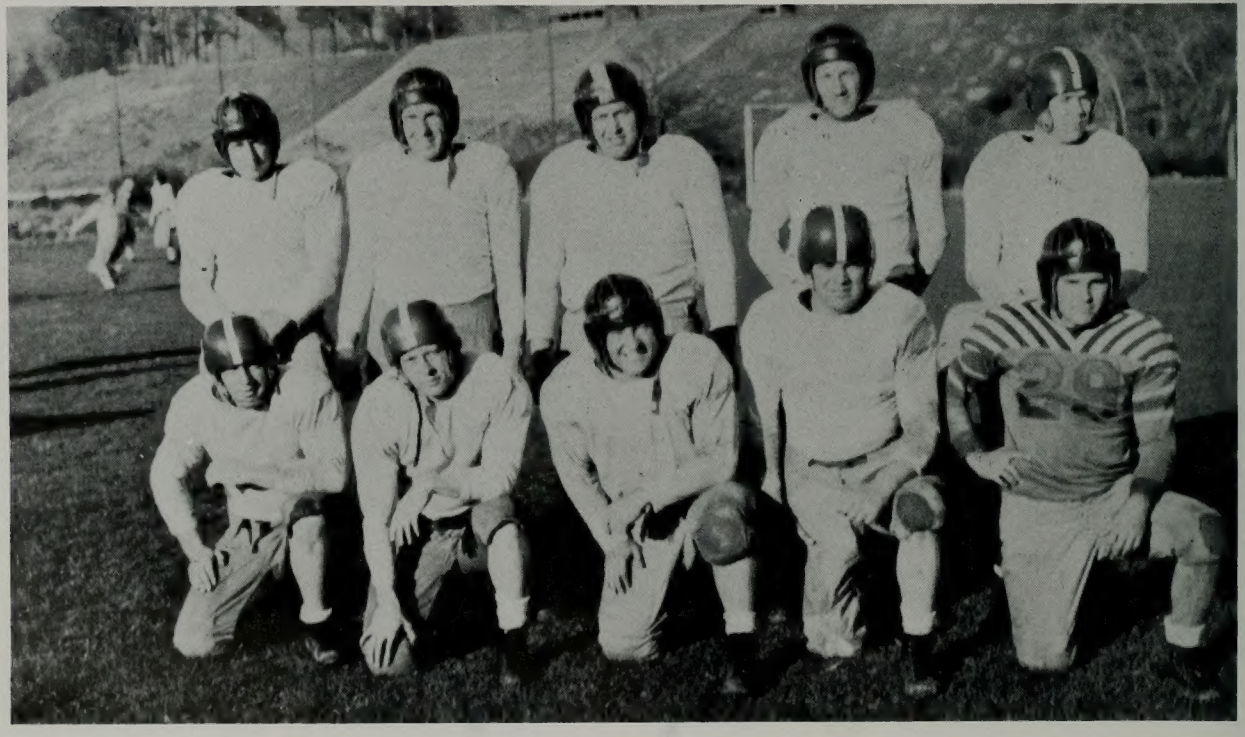

Spring Football

A combination of the late return from the Navy of our head football coach, "Eddie" Kimball, combined with the marked absence of eligible men, the Y was forced to forego Fall football competition, but with the intermittent return of skilled brawn material Coach Kimball organized Spring workouts giving special instruction to backfield potentials while Wayne Soffe, on leave from the Navy coaches the linemen.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

Third row: Carlyle Gourley, Fielding Abbott, Don Chavis, Stan McAllister, Rex Olsen, Kirk Larsen, Domingo Rodriquez, Max Bjarnson, Ross Westover, Garth Seegmiller, Horace Gillespie, Frank Whitney, Herm Longhurst.

Football tactics next year will embody plays and procedures "Eddie" developed while in the service plus the more prominent "T" formations. The next Fall schedule re-enters the Cougar club in the Big Seven league with auxiliary games being played with San Jose in California and a trip to El Paso, Texas for a dig with the Texas Miners.

Tennis

Varsity tennis opened a promising season with the return of four lttermen: B. Bailey, Hyde, Mangum, and K. Wilson. The first competition was realized in a trip into Ute territory at Salt Lake where we made a fair showing. The Y netters bowed 5 to 2. Individual victories were: Singles, Don Evans, defeating Vernie Swenson of Utah, 9-7, 6-2. In the Double trouble, Thurgood and Mangum merged to humble Koch and Williams of Utah, 6-4, 2-6, 64. Other meets will be the BYU Invitational Track Meet, Divisional Tennis and the Conference Meet.

Track

With the filing away of basketball jerseys in moth balls, Coach Floyd Millet began to pass out track equipment on a large scale for the first time in some three years to around twenty-seven potential cinder stars. Testing events for a relatively unproved squad were realized in the Invitational Track Meet the latter part of April, where the Y entered the 100-yard dash, mile relay, medley relay, high jump, pole vault, shot put, discus throw, and javelin throw. May 18 saw the Y represented at the State Meet and for the finale we entered the conference meet at Denver.

Track

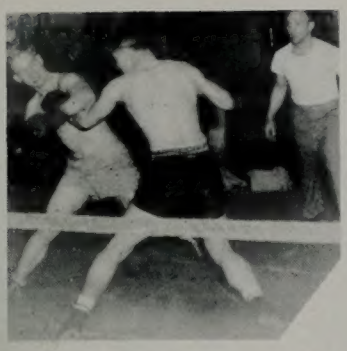

With the Y emerging from a three year moratorium on athletics in general, and the press dead-lines in advance of spring competition, it is somewhat difficult to describe sporting events that haven't taken place and rather awkward to predict possible results of these potentials in the late spring meets.

We can be confident, however, of the four lettermen above, who have in past years distinguished themselves in track and field events. The lettermen are: Carl Clark, conference pole vaulter; Less Cannon and Brady Walker, weights; and Russ Nielson, all around. At the right is Nelson clearing the hurdle with ease. Below are the quarter-milers, Roberts and Newberry.

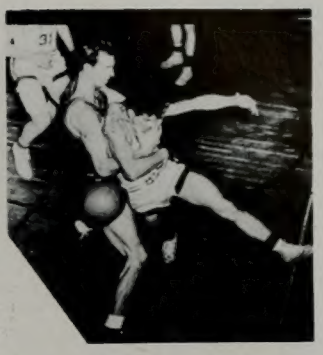

Sports Slants

The academic year 1945-46 passed through the Cougar campus and observed the greatest conversion this school has experienced. The king of sports, varsity football was of necessity intombed. With the opening of the hoop season enough basketeers had returned to make the club into a going concern. Basketball held top honors as the major sport on the campus with the intramural program absorbing those interested in short, non-training periods of participation. Smokeless smokers held their share of the spotlight, with the full beam on the once quiet ghostly gridiron for spring football workouts. Coach Eddie Kimball returned too late to whip a fall team into shape but is well started on a hopeful season for next year. The sportslight flashed to the thirty-third Annual Invitation Track and Field Meet and Relay Carnival, resumed after war years, to highlight the spring sports season.

The Y campus is centered in the wonderland of a sportsman's paradise. To the north and east is found an abundance of superior skiing, hiking and camping; to the west, Utah lake offers ice skating, swimming and boating; to the south, a class A golf course and skeet range are growing in popularity. These aid in augmenting the regular campus activities which are speedily reaching adequacy.

The Cougar is now poised on the threshold of a New Golden Era of University activities, tensed for the starting whistle to lunge into the world of opportunity to battle his way to collegiate supremacy, maintaining our cherished individuality.

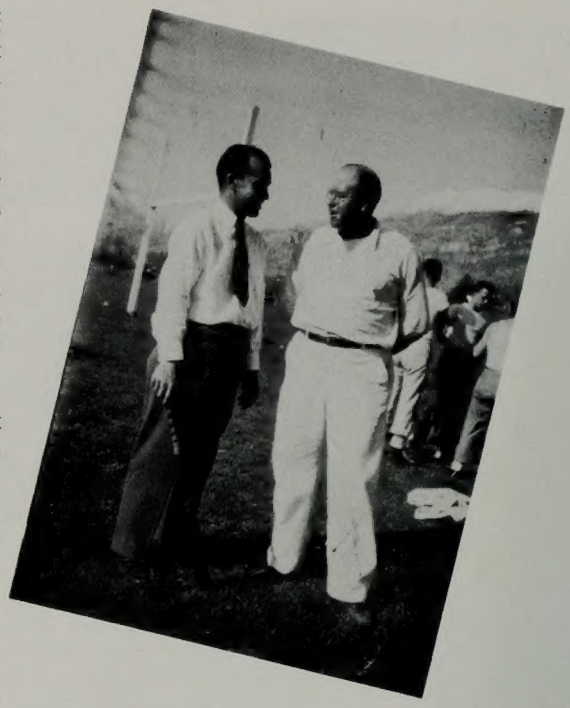

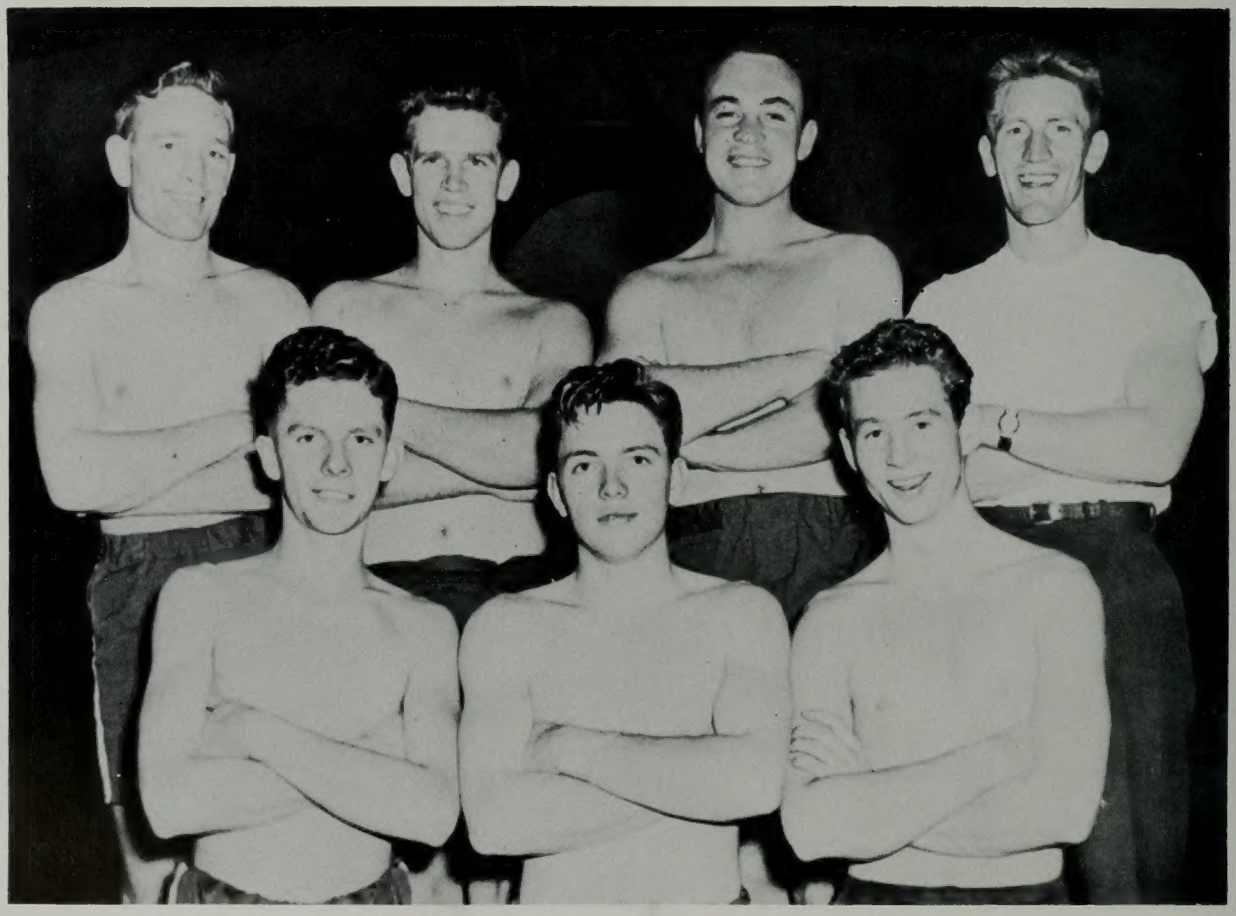

Intramurals

The Intramural system, under the direction of Coach Fred "Buck" Dixon flourished with new zest and active participation. The flexible organization of the system this year made it possible to absorb the ever present returning of masculine gender to the campus with sporting activities indoor and outdoor placed at the top of their curriculum. Boxing and wrestling tournaments and basketball contests were featured during the fall and winter quarters with tennis, volleyball, softball and baseball on the schedule for spring aspirants. Hawkins, Stutz and Phillips carried the responsibility of the ring events with Paul Wilson worrying about the student management of the system at large.

Below are the spring quarter boxing champs, Horace Gillespie, Bob Mercer, Boyd Williams, Wendell Cook, and Jerry Skousen. Keith Wilson was absent.

Intramurals

The intramural program featured two college open tournaments during the year. An alert Viking aggregation won top honors in the fall quarter contest with top billing for the Brigadiers and the independent Virginians who captured coveted crowns winter quarter in the social unit independent leagues respectively.

At the right are the Virginians: Glen Sheen, Don Snow, Tony Snow, Stan McAllister, Joe Simpson, Rex Olsen.

Invitation Meet

Under the direction of Dr. C. J. Hart, meet director, Miss Leona Holbrook, in charge of women's events and B.Y.U. Athletic Director Eddie Kimball, the 33rd annual track and field meet and relay carnival unfolded a panorama of thrills and pageantry April 25, 26, 27 in the Y stadium. Distinguished athletes from 65 schools representing 6 states performed in ideal weather to successfully re-establish the cinder classic among the outstanding sports events.

The University of Southern California captured a lead position in the intercollegiate division, while Branch Agricultural College and East High won coveted honors in their respective departments. All - around champion of the meet was a junior from Mesa High School in Arizona, Wilford White. Proving himself the greatest trackster to perform in the Y stadium, White captured seven firsts of the nine events to aggregate 6225 points.

Skiing proved one of the most popular sports on the campus this season. A combination of Miss Holbrook's ski class and the Timpanogos Mountain Club served as organized units sponsoring weekly ski trips to the down-hill wonder lands of the State. The majority of enthusiasts in this pastime found good skiing at Alta, Snow Basin in Ogden, or at our own Stewart Flats in Provo Canyon. Highlights of the season were the various moonlight ski trips, both as a class and otherwise. As to the lone stranger in the per left corner, his identity akes a good guess.

Women's

The Women's Athletic Association completed one of its most active years. During the autumn quarter, their activities consisted of an overnight canyon party, a Christmas party, and volley ball and bowling tournaments. The winter quarter found W.A.A. sponsoring women s basketball and foul pitching tournaments. In the spring, the organization featured softball and other spring sports.

The Cougarettes, right, captured the independent basketball crown through winning from their opponents 7 out of 7 games. Members of the team are Colleen Rowan, "Mickey" Michelson, Leone Weinegar, Madelyn Hatch, Virginia Ault, Alberta Farnsworth, Norylene Oran absent.

The Nautilus girls took first place in the Social Unit basketball tournament defeating Altra Mitra 32-29. The Nautilus girls are Marcene Ginn, Colleen Rowan, Barbara Bailey, Carolyn Fagg, Mary Ellen Christensen, Ines Payne, and Geraldine Heatherly. Standing are the Alta Mitra runner-ups.

A spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm marked the work of the five girls who managed the girl's Intramural Athletic program. Joyce Hanks, bowling; "Mickey" Mickelson, volleyball; Alama Ayers, Social Unit basketball; Madelyn Hatch, independent basketball; Barbara Bailey, foul pitching, absent.

W. A. A.

Golda Thornley demonstrates her ability to make baskets from the foul line while Marion Bird and Beverly Brady approve. These girls won the independent foul pitching tournament.

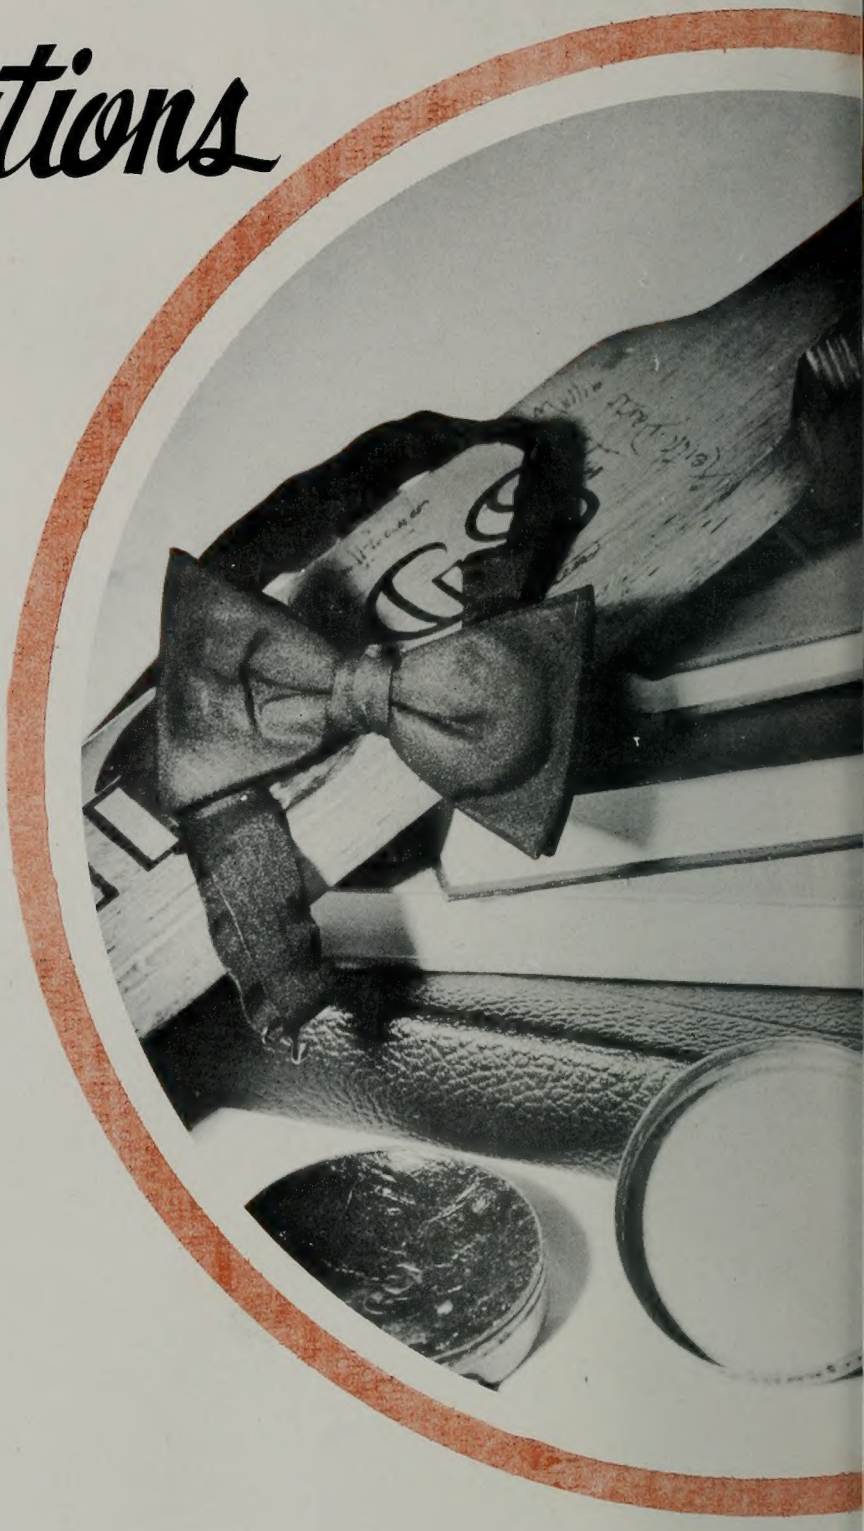

"Mickey" Mickelson poises herself for a shot while Leone Weinegar keeps score and Madelyn Hatch awaits her turn. These girls made up the Alta Mitra team that won the social unit foul pitching tourney.

"Mickey" Mickelson, Alama Ayers and Beth Wight are the award sweater winners for 1945 and Madelyn Hatch, Joyce Hanks and Edna Holt for 1946. These selections were made on the basis of interest, ability and participation in W.A.A. activities.

A. M. S.

Under the able leadership of Coy Miles, Vaughn Taylor and Victor Brimhall the A.M.S. sponsored such activities as lighting the "Y", the Smokeless Smoker, and the Snow Carnival, Y-Day, and the Sweetheart Ball. The Association also rendered valuable services through the establishment of the Tux Bureau, and the Travel Bureau.

A. W. S.

This year's A.W.S. Council launched its program by accepting the challenge of increased enrollment which brought back the traditional abundance of social life to the Y campus. Holding their own as big sisters, the mentors have taken the lonely frosh under their wings and oriented them with parties, fashion shows, and teas. The A.W.S. claims credit for the success of the Girls' Jamboree, the Preference Ball, and Girls' Day activities.

Band

Dr. John R. Halliday, associate professor of music, is former "Y" student who returned to his Alma Pater to teach music and conduct the B.Y.U. band.

His musical talents and abilities are well known to the band concert audiences, and even better known are they to those who perform under his baton. His interpretations of the varied numbers in the bands repertoire are inspiring, and it is a well-known fact that no sharp or flat tone from any instrument, however out of tune, escapes his alert and well-trained ear.

Orchestra

One of the persons most responsible for upholding the tradition of a superb music department at the Y is Leroy J. Robertson, professor of music. As conductor of the B.Y.U. symphony orchestra, he brings to us some of the finest music of the ages. An artist himself, he is a versatile performer, an able conductor, and a composer of national renown.

Women's Glee

A favorite of music majors and of all who know him is Dr. Franklin F. Madsen, professor of music. His dynamic personality has won for him countless friends, and he is known for his ready wit, his sense of humor, and his deep, pleasing voice. He has studied widely in various universities throughout the nation, and his years of experience in teaching music thoroughly qualify him for his position.

A talented musician, he has helped to make the B.Y.U. choruses famous througout the West for their superb performances.

Drama

Amusing complications and delightful comedy greeted us as the BLITHE SPIRIT returned to this earthly sphere to tease her mortal husband who had too quickly taken another wife.

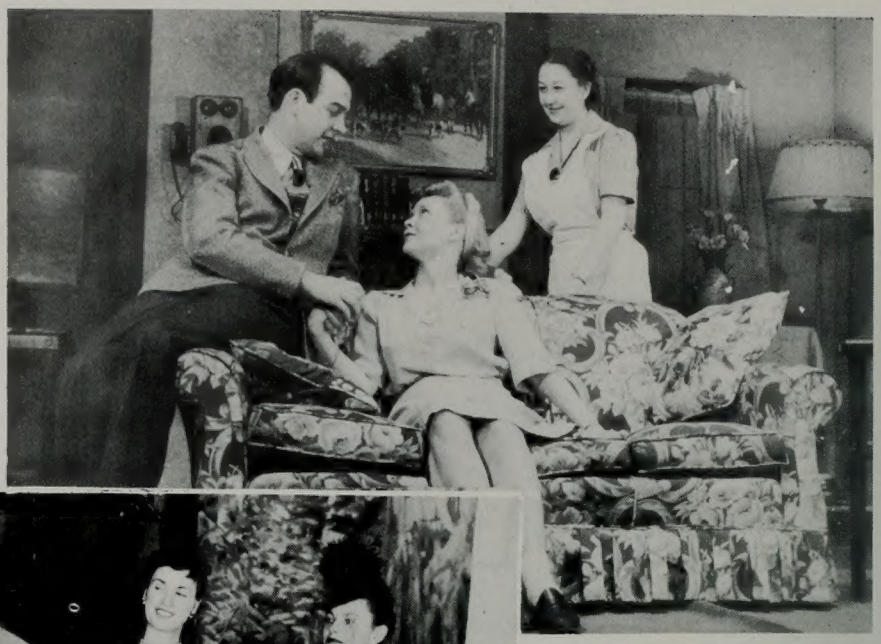

As presented in College Hall, John Patrick's play, THE HASTY HEART, which received wide acclaim in England, brings together in a world torn with war the moving story of soldiers from each of the Allied nations.

Drama

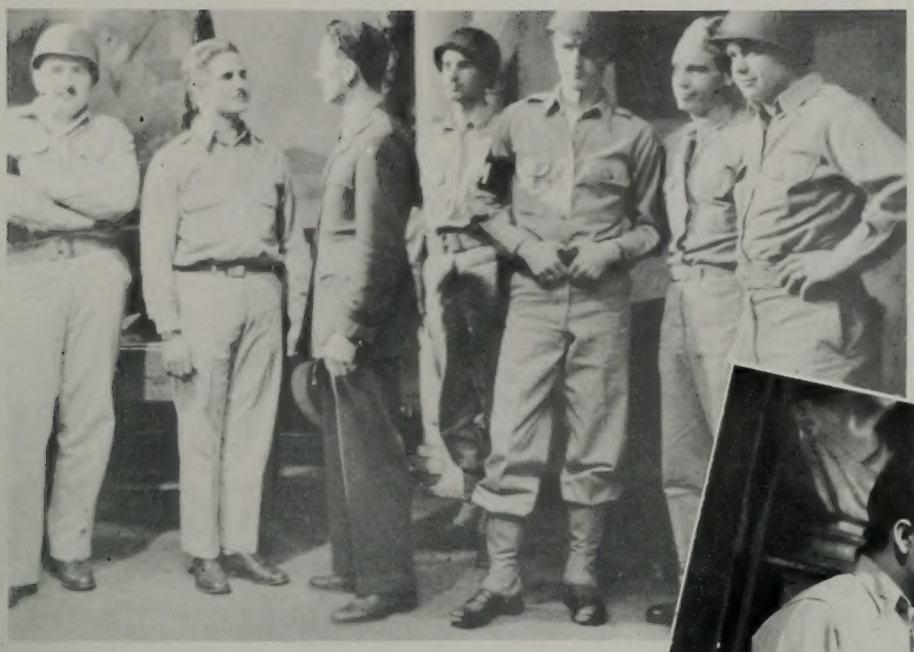

Filled with spicy dialogue and laughter, CLAUDIA entertained large audiences as the story is told of a naive, young wife with a complex. (Right and below)

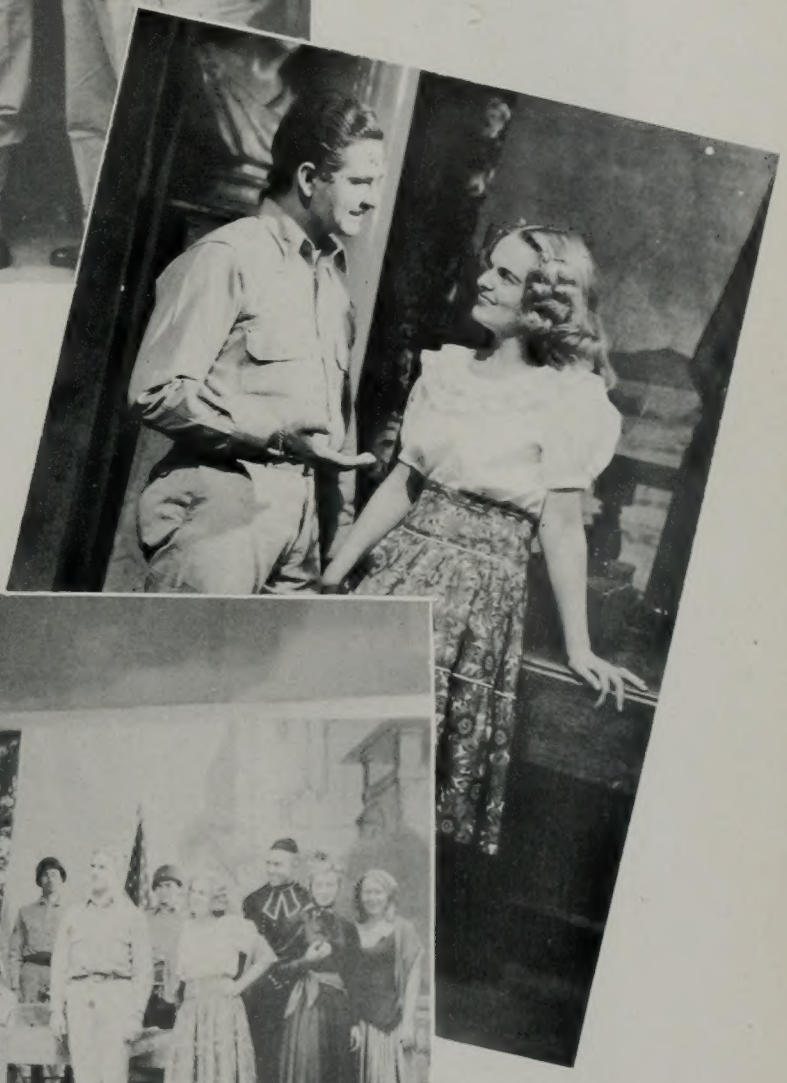

With the RETURN OF PETER GRIM, we delve again into the world beyond as the spirit of a venerable Dutch gentleman returns to deliver his message. (Right)

With the sonorous tolling of the BELL FOR ADANO, the curtains closed on a dramatic and successful presentation of Paul Osborn's war play of Italy.

Banyan Ball

Above is chairman Sterling Sessions showing the rest of the Banyan Ball committee the plans for the dance. The committee is: Mary Jane Miner, Carol Collard, Fred Bushnell, Sterling Sessions, Joan Spratley.

Preferred Man

From the ranks of male members now on campus, B.Y.U. coeds singled out Don Snow as the most "Preferred Man" at the Y. Tall, broad-shouldered, and likable, Don accepted his crown with that characteristic quiet charm which has made him a popular campus figure.

Banyan Queen

Against a backdrop of mirrors and velvet, petite and popular Beth Zabriskie ascended the steps to the throne to reign as Banyan Queen on the evening of March 15 at the annual Banyan Ball. Queenly in manner, poised and lovely, Miss Zabriskie was selected by balloting from a group of charming candidates.

Snow Queen

Though only a freshman this year, brunette Claire Stoddard managed to obtain the coveted crown of Snow Queen at B.Y.U.'s annual Snow Carnival. The possessor of a lovely soprano voice, vivacious Claire also has a talent for meeting people.

Home Coming

Behind the planning and preparations for the first Homecoming Day in four years — the Committee: Moana Ballif, Barbara Bailey, Ariel Ballif, Jr., Verda Olsen, Zola Rae Law, Gordon Hawkins, and Meredith Hansen.

Home Coming

Home Coming

Militant bands marched on . . . smart and snappy or graceful and decorative, float after float drifted by, as units and organizations vied for the outstanding exhibition of the annual Homecoming Parade.

Home Coming

Where can one find so many beautiful girls, be they majorettes, ski enthusiasts, or gorgeous maids? I'll tell you—the Homecoming Parade. Let us not forget, however, those gallant men who continue on in the minority.

Preference Ball

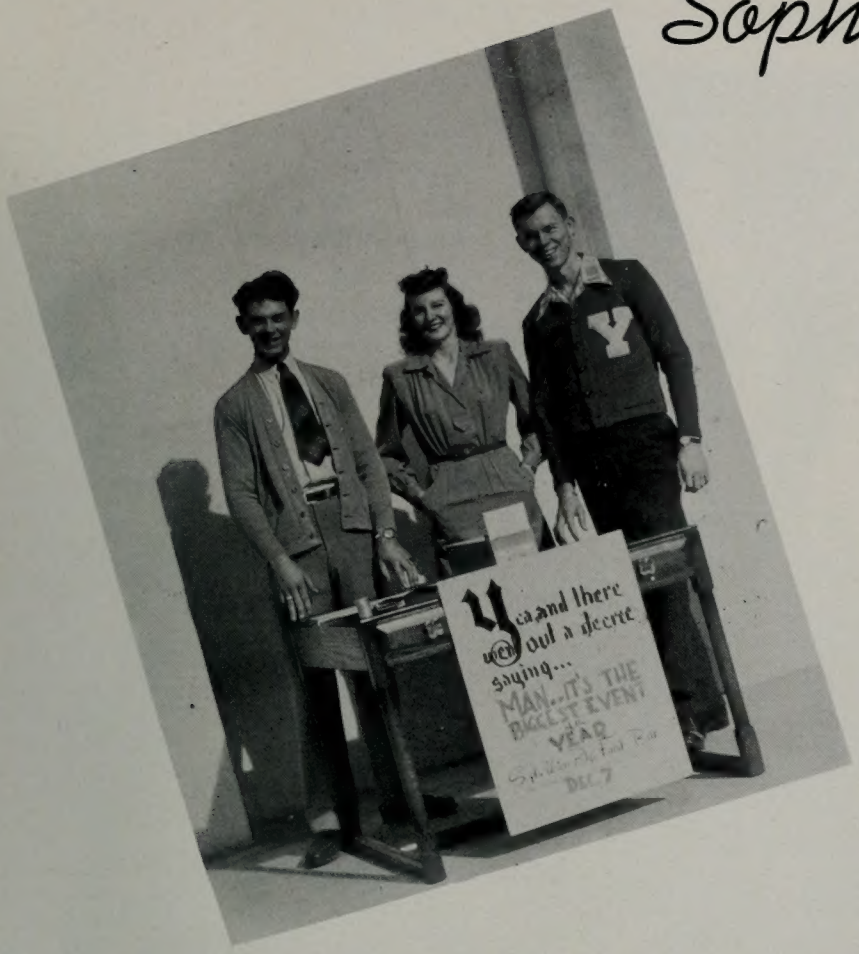

Surrounded by admiring co-eds, Don Snow, center below, reigned as the "most preferred" date on the campus in February on the occasion of the Preference Ball, sponsored by the A.W.S. Sharing honors as the next most preferred dates were Joe Weight, left below, and Harvey Black, right below.

Soph Loan Fund

Prom

Chatting about the success of the Junior Prom are Junior Class Officers Barbara Bailey, Taylor Reynolds and Marion Jones with Junior Prom Chairman Grant Ash.

While decorating for the Prom, they take that pause that refreshes, but then I'm mistaken for I see the beverage is 7 Up.

Committee members Kay Morris, Vivian Hoyt, Marvel Murphy and Kay Young confer upon last minute details for the Junior Prom assembly.

Cafeteria

Typical of students everywhere, B.Y.U. students are always eager when they hear the cry, "Let's eat." At center and below are candid shots representative of cafeteria line-ups which usually stretch the entire length of the Smith Building hall.

Lyceum

Wagner, Bach, Beethoven, Verdi, Chopin, Debussy, and Gershwin—we've thrilled to hear their music and that of others performed by many of the artists who appeared throughout the year on our lyceum series. Some of these were the Columbia Grand Opera Quartet; Egon Petri, pianist; Isaac Stern, violinist; and Helen Traubel, famed soprano of the Metropolitan Opera.

Lyceum

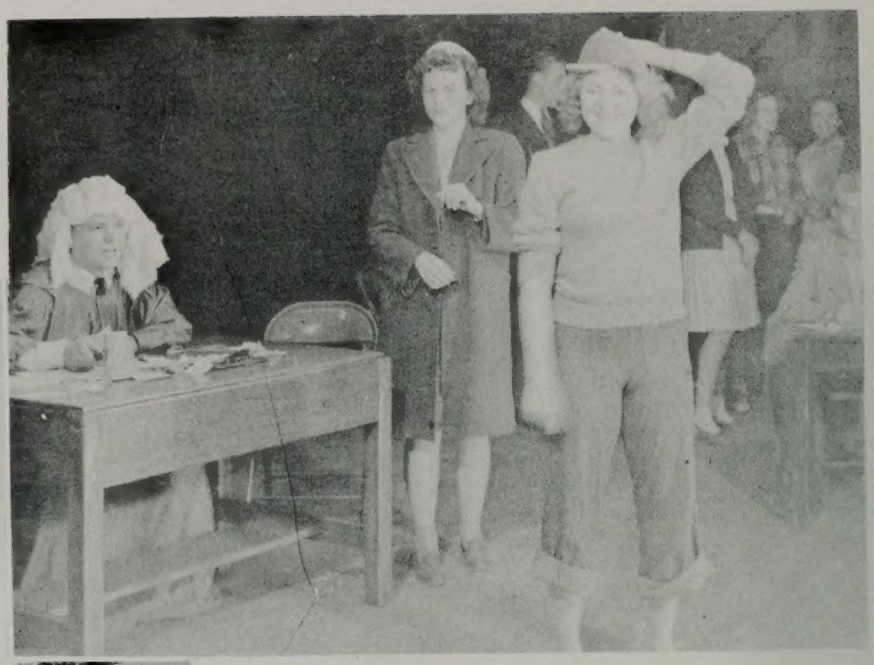

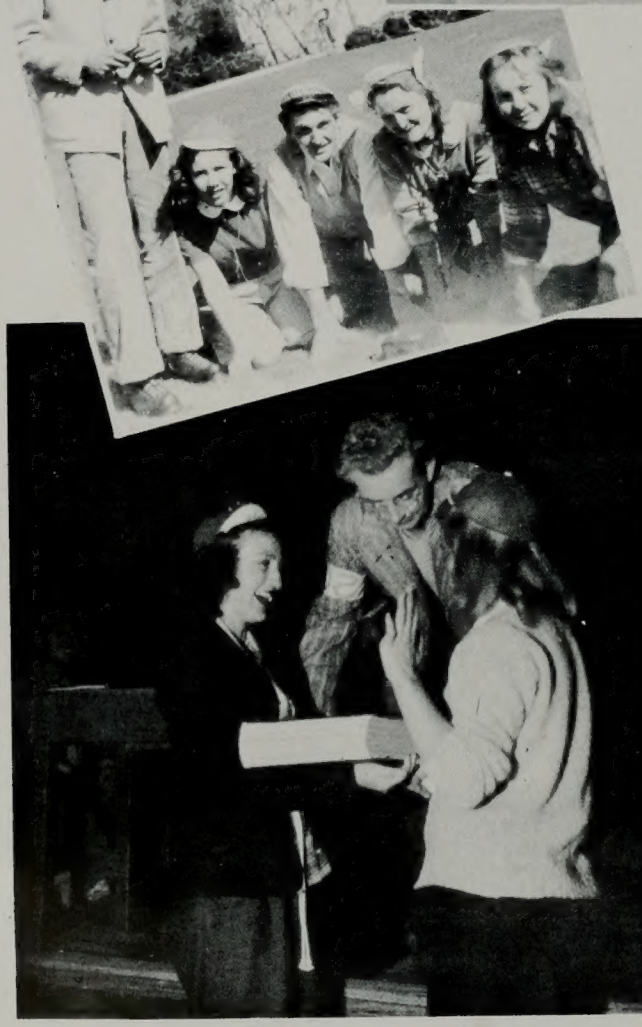

Other artists of the celebrated group included Eleanor Steber, Metropolitan Opera soprano; the Britt string trio; Malcuzynski, pianist; and Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson, two-piano team. Fortunate indeed are we of the Y to have such persons appear before us. And may we here extend our thanks and our congratulations to Dean Herald R. Clark for his superb work as chairman of the lyceum committee.

Frosh Week

Frosh Week

And what if they do look funny? It's Frosh Week at B.Y.U. With the traditional skull caps of blue and white, and the "whiskers" of the Cougar, the Freshman Class appeared upon the Campus, and willingly submitted to "Ship" Snow's initiations to make them collegiate guys and gals.

Assemblies

Assemblies

There've been assemblies, and then there've been other assemblies here at B.Y.U. We remember them for various reasons. Let us recall for you the Junior Prom assembly . . . in the mystic isle of Fantasia, Floyd Weed crooned delightful lyrics to (we think) Deaun Moulton who accompanied him at the piano. And we listened, too, to the haunting song "Blue Indigo" as sung by Marvel Murphy, Edie Jensen and Vivian Hoyt.

Did you see Johnny Esquire do that rhumba step with the two lovely senioritas in the Esquire Review? Ah, yes, I see you did. Then you know that we saw again an assembly reminiscent of pre-war days filled with sparkle, interest, an abundance of feminine pulchritude and lots of talent, ably directed by Stan Gwilliams.

Student Union Drive

An attempt to push on-campus donations to the Student Union Drive was made during winter quarter, with a goal of three dollars per student. Shown at center are contributors, making wishes before the wishing well constructed by Val Norn Social Unit. The thermometer used for gauging contributions is shown at lower right.

Johann Strauss GYPSY BARON, enjoying a colorful two-night run at the Paramount Theater, was presented to large Provo audiences mid-Winter Quarter. This popular operetta was produced entirely by students of the University to increase the funds for the erection of the Student Memorial Union Building

Mardi Gras

With Winter Quarter final exams over, students and faculty donned costumes, as colorful as the rainbow and more varied than members at a United Nations meeting, to join in the gaiety of the picturesque Mardi Gras sponsored by the French Club, known as Le Circle Francais. Confetti, balloons, popcorn and candied apples added festive air as poet and peasant, maharaja and chorus girl danced together. Most-unusual-costume prize went to the inactive volcano of the Tausig Invitations who found his mate, became active, then came to the Mardi Gras. Among the multifarious garb worn by the dancers were several elaborate and authentic costumes brought from foreign shores by returning servicemen.

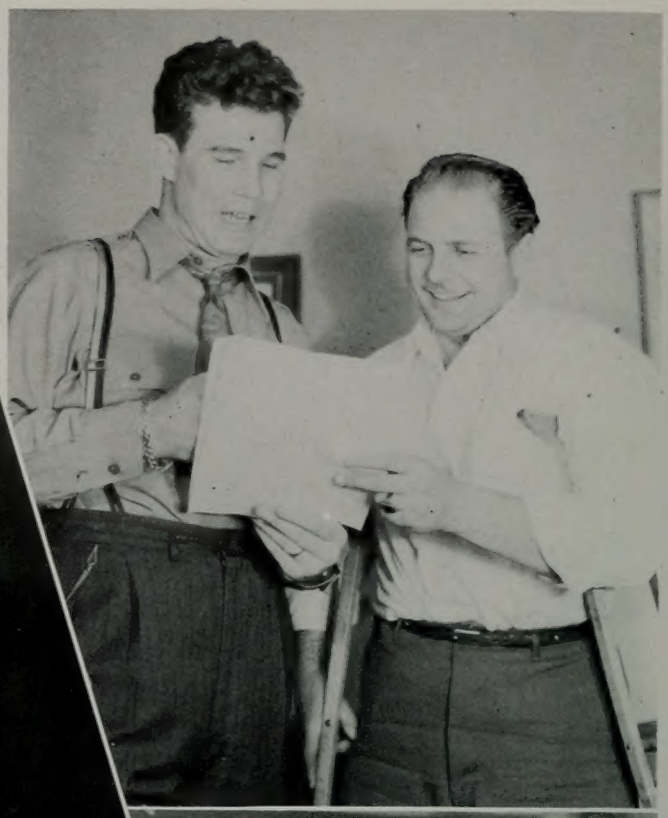

College Varieties

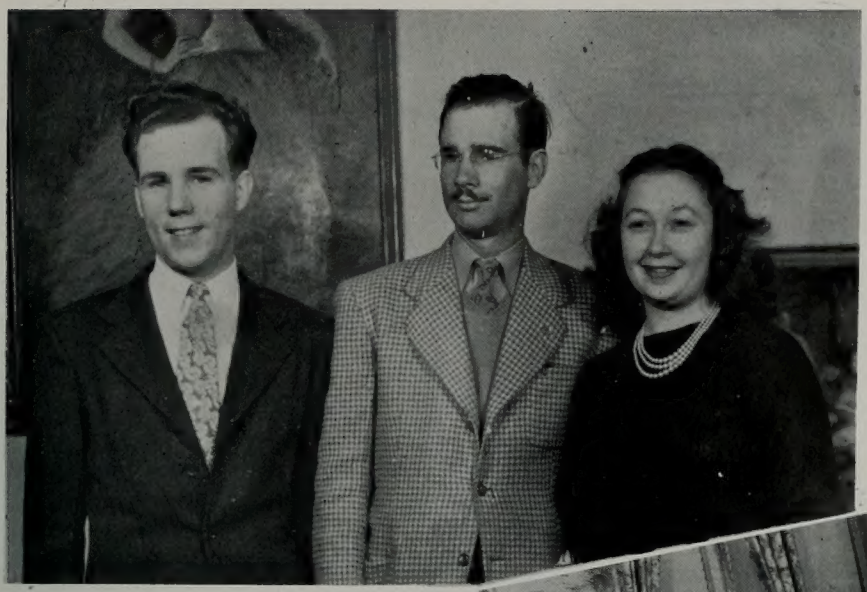

Indulging in a few last minute laughs before going on the air are Dewain Silvester and Sherman Boyd, upper right, co-directors of College Varieties, weekly radio broadcast over KOVO. Banyan Photographers (above) Kenneth Smith, Ray Gwilliams, and Shipley Snow.

Banyan salesmen (below) Mary Beth Pierce, George Ballif, Dean Payne, Truman Clawson, LaVon Squire, Mary Jane Miner.

This is our book and for it we wish to express our thanks and appreciation to those who helped in the making of it.

First to our loyal staff who have performed well and helped us over the rough as well as smooth spots. . . . to Reed Biddolph for photographic aid and to Joe Boel for portrait work. . . . to Franklin Haymore and the Mountain States Bindery for printing the cover and the binding.

To all these and everyone else, including the Student Body, for the privilege of editing the book—we say thank you
